Connolly Declares He Has Not Abandoned Fight Against Jacksonians in the Rage for Water Commissioner Nemination.

Although the democratic judicial committee has met and decided to call a conven-tion for October 1, immediately after the congressional convention at the Jacksonian club, and probably with the same delegates, many of the party leaders are counseling the endorsement of Howard Kennedy, jr.,

the republican nominee "A canvass of the situation has revealed the fact that there is very little, if any, suitable democratic timber for the contests," said a fusion man. "Men who would fill the vacancy on the district bench acceptably among the democrats decline to enter the fight in view of Kennedy's strength and popularity and the fact that it is the presidential election year."

Chairman Ed P. Smith of the judicial committee says he has heard a number of possibilities mentioned to make the race against Kennedy, but declines to give their names. Mr. Smith did not care to go into the situation in detail. Other democrats of prominence, however, declared emphatically the only thing for the party to do is to endorse Kennedy and thus encourage the abolition of partisan contests with regard to the judiciary.

The day originally was set for October 18, but owing to Festival hall having been taken for that the celebration in the large Festival hall.

The exercises in observance of Nebraska day will partake of speaking, music and other features and, to a large degree, will be commemorative of the fiftieth anniversary of the political organization of Nebraska as a territory. Chancellor E. Benjamin Andrews of the University of Nebraska will open the exercises at 2 p. m. with prayer. Governor D. R. Francis will be followed by a response from Governor J. H. Mickey. John L. Webster, G. W. seemed satisfied to go it alone for twenty Wattles and others will follow with short addresses, interspersed by selections from leading Nebraska musical talent.

Bottling the Water. Bottling the Water.

The artesian well water which has been running to waste at the foot of Harney street, was bottled up yesterday morning by screwing a cap on the pipe. A member of the Harding Creamery company said the flow has shown no signs of decrease, although the pressure of the water is not as large as it was hoped to obtain. This is, however, regarded as a minor difficulty. Tests made this morning with a steam gauge showed a pressure in the pipes of eight pounds. This will not be enough to raise the water to the second story without pumping.

Extension of Time. Judge Munger gave an extension of time to October 1 for the payment of purchase money, approximating $15.300 in the case of H. B.
